Course Description & Details

Examine the Vietnam War and its legacies through a historical lens and conversations with the Vietnamese. In this two-week course, students will interview and interact with the war's witnesses and participants and use physical dramaturgy to connect with the place. Walk, observe, listen, taste, imagine- put yourself in the place...in the story...inside history - and respond to it through physical gesture work and guided reflection. Cross-listed with HUMS 493.

- Travel Dates: Nov 18-Dec 3 2023
- Scholarships available for degree-seeking students based on academic achievement and financial needs.
- Community members are welcome to join the trip as auditing students.
- Students may book their own airfare to/from Vietnam.
- An interview is required prior to registration.
- A $500 deposit will be required to secure a spot.
